

Red October

I'm walkin along, just make my way,
Tryin to make it through, just another day.
The summers gone and so is my life
It's a dismal gray ahead, it's gonna be a winter full of loneliness and strife.

I can't believe that a year has passed.
Each one seems to go, it seems to go to fast.
I try to look back on what i've done.
But it's too quick can't recall, and I feel, I feel so numb.

Just another Red October
To wash away all the pain.
Just another Red October
Each one leavin me insane...

Somewhere there's got to be more strength than this
Feel like I'm swimmin in an chemically imbalanced abyss

Just another Red October
To wash away all the pain.
Just another Red October
Each one leavin me insane...
